City Pay Boost Bid Rejected

Fire Chief Irked By Refusal

Police, Firemen Seek Increases

Charles N. Shultz, chairman of the powerful city council finance committee, last night turned a deaf ear to a request from Fire Chief L. J. Steele for pay increases for the city's 80 firemen and policemen.

The chief went before council to ask for cost-of-living increases ranging from 29 to 50 per cent for his men and police department members.

After the meeting adjourned, Shultz and Chief Steele became engaged in a heated discussion over the pay boost issue. Shultz told the chief that he would not meet with the salary committee as requested because he was "disgusted with the chief's plea." He did not elaborate.

Speaking to council, Chief Steele said the cost of living is continuing to rise, yet firemen are earning only 72 cents an hour.

"A bill was passed tonight providing, among other things, a wage of 85 cents an hour for untrained playground leaders for the city recreation department, while the trained firemen earn only 72 cents an hour," he said.

The chief reviewed the background of the wage increase request, pointing out that a cost-of-living bonus of $25 a month was granted by city council last year, pending a job evaluation study this year and a promised consideration of wage adjustments.

SURVEY COMPLETED

He said the department heads of the service and safety departments had made their surveys, consulted with the salary committees and were now asking that the salary and finance committee convene to discuss the proposals.

"My grocery bill is double what it was in previous years," Chief Steele said, adding that while industrial wage scales continue to rise, police and firemen's wages have remained stationary.

A comparison of present and requested salaries for the police and fire department follows:

Present pay (including a $25 a month bonus): Policemen and firemen, $230; police lieutenants, $240; fire captains, $255; police captains, $255; police and fire chiefs, $275.

Proposed (without bonus provision): Policemen and firemen, $313; fire captains and police lieutenants, $343; police captain and assistant fire chiefs (2), $373; police and fire chiefs, $413.

There are no assistant fire chiefs in the department at present.

Thunder Shakes City

Resounding crashes of thunder literally shook Mansfielders from their sleep last night as Mansfield was caught in one of the noisiest electrical storms of the season.

Today, rain clouds still threatened, but weathermen weren't certain where more showers will fall. The thunderstorms were reported over widely-scattered localities in the state.

In the Cincinnati - Covington, Ky., area, a localized storm uprooted trees and ripped down power lines. A woman was said to have been knocked down by hailstones "almost as large as golf balls" during the height of the storm.

The humid, hot weather which closed in on the city today is expected to stay through Thursday with temperatures averaging two to four degrees above normal. Mostly fair and slightly cooler weather is sighted for Friday and Saturday with showers likely again Sunday.

Commission Meets

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)—Ohio's state sinking fund commission met yesterday in this convention city. The four Republican members—Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, Secretary of State Edward J. Hummel, Attorney General Hugh S. Jenkins and Treasurer Don H. Ebright—approved issuance of $7,801,000 worth of World War II bonus checks for Ohioans.

Ex-Convict Finds 'Free' Law Costly

CLEVELAND—(INS)—Ex-Convict Frank Halbreda, 34, has no trust in court-appointed attorneys.

Halbreda, in Cuyahoga county jail on a forgery and bad check charge, wrote notes to Common Pleas Judge Frank J. Merrick asking for "a speedy trial."

When he was called in before Judge Merrick, Halbreda refused a state-appointed attorney. He pointed out that "I had a state attorney once and he got me straight into an institution."

Lewis Wins Court Fight On Pensions

Judge OK's $100 Monthly Payments

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Justice T. Alan Goldsborough today gave John L. Lewis a legal go-ahead for his $100 monthly pension plan for miners.

Goldsborough dismissed a plea of Ezra Van Horn, trustee for operators on the United Mine Workers' welfare fund, for a court order to block payment of pensions for retired miners.

The judge said he found the proposal for payments "reasonable and proper."

For Lewis, it marked his first triumph on three trips into Judge Goldsborough's court. Twice before he had been there only to be fined for contempt of court for failure to end walkouts in obedience to Goldsborough's orders.

It was a dispute over pensions that brought about the costly six week strike last spring.

The proposed system of payments was evolved by Lewis and Senator H. Styles Bridges (R.-N. H.). Brides became neutral member of the welfare board and sided with Lewis in setting up the plan.

Van Horn refused to approve the payments and went into court to ask that it be declared illegal.

Goldsborough said the plan, which was only tentative and may be changed as experience dictates, does not violate either the 1947 coal work contract, made last July, or the Taft-Hartley labor act.

The plan provides $100 a month for UMW members who are 62 years of age or older and who have worked in the pits for at least 20 years.

Lewis and Bridges agreed to set aside $5,000,000 of the $45,000,000 fund to start the pension payments.

Blind Master Of Dog Dies

NEW YORK —(INS)— Babe, a seeing-eye German shepherd dog faces today a life of empty retirement and lonesomeness.

A heart attack killed his master, Robert M. Gay, blind research secretary of the New York Association for the Blind. For 11 years their partnership had endured.

When Gay died, the faithful dog crawled under a bed until coaxed out by an official of the Henry Hudson hotel where his master lived. Babe will be kept by the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals until Gay's family claims him.

Plans Labor Law Attack

WASHINGTON —(INS)— The CIO pushed plans today for an all-out political attack in its newspapers on supporters of the Taft-Hartley law.

Such action was prepared by the labor organization after the Supreme court ruled it is legal to use union funds for that purpose.

A union spokesman said the "CIO News" will devote much space to political matters as the fall campaigning gets under way, concentrating its power on candidates it considers dangerous to labor.

The Charles Hoffman company, Mansfield, won the plumbing contract with a bid of $24,464. The T. O. Murphy company of Oberlin had bid $34,220 while the Mansfield Plumbing and Heating company of Mansfield bid $31,783.

The contract for heating went to the Mansfield Plumbing and Heating company on its bide of $33,803. The Hoffman company had bid $47,016 and the Murphy company, $45,490.

LETS SEWAGE CONTRACT

A contract for building the Roseland school sewage disposal system went to R. J. Williams, Mansfield, on his bid of $16,892. The only other bid was for $24,902, submitted by the Mountaineer Construction company of Pittsburgh.

The Newman school, to be built on Central avenue, near Grace street, will be a one-story structure, containing 14 classrooms, a public library, a lunchroom and a gymnasium.

John H. Eisaman, board clerk, reported he purchased a lot on Oakenwaldt avenue from J. A. Hecht as instructed by the board. The lot will be part of the grounds of the Newman school.

Eisaman was instructed to attend the delinquent property sheriff's sale July 1 to attempt to buy two other properties required as part of the Newman school grounds. Those are lots 11589 and 11592 on Oakenwaldt avenue.

The board authorized Eisaman to advertise for sale the old Trimble school at Trimble road and West Fourth street. The one-room school has not been used for 20 years.

The board authorized use of the Woodland school by the city recreation department for a playground program and use of a utility room there for arts and crafts.

Draft Delay Aids 'Guard'

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The Army said today a 48-hour delay by President Truman in signing the draft bill will fill the National Guard.

The Guard is shooting for a peacetime record quota of 341,000 men. There are some 250,000 in the ranks now.

Recruiting offices are working overtime to process men in the 19-through-25 age group who prefer three years of stay-at-home service to 21 months in the regular armed forces. This is the option open to those enlisting in the Guard and other active reserve units before the President signs the draft into law.

Informed sources said Mr. Truman has decided to hold off awhile to encourage enlistments in the reserves. He has nine more days in which to sign the bill passed by Congress at its closing session.

The measure still lacks the signatures of Senate President Arthur H. Vandenberg and House Speaker Joseph W. Martin who are in Philadelphia attending the Republican National convention.

'Vandals' Cause Needless Runs

Eggs Only Casualty As Fire Sirens Wail

Wailing fire sirens alarmed South and West Mansfield last night but the only damage was to eggs which protested malodorously when water boiled out of their pan.

Four times, firemen rushed from their station houses between 10:46 and 11:35, causing concern to hundreds of residents.

The repeated shrieks of the sirens brought scores of persons out of their homes, disturbed the sleep of hundreds, and resulted in dozens of telephone calls from persons seeking to learn if there was a big fire or accident.

On almost every bus this morning, the sirens were the topic of conversation. "What do you suppose happened?" "There certainly must have been a big fire last night," were typical remarks heard among the passengers.

The first call came at 10:46 from the R. W. Mumford residence at 149 West Dickson avenue. It was there that the eggs protested their lack of water.

Followed quickly three false alarms. They forced firemen of Central and No. 3 stations to make needless runs to West Third and Rowland avenue at 11:01 p. m., to South Main and Prospect street at 11:45 p. m., and to Lexington avenue and Scholl road at 11:35 p. m.

Two other "no damage" runs were chalked up in the afternoon. Firemen from Central and No. 2 stations answered a call to the Edward Tillman home, 121 East Fourth street at 3 p. m. and to the Baltimore and Ohio depot at 3:49 p. m. Firemen said rubbish was on fire in the Tillman basement and that a boxcar was on fire from undetermined origin at the depot.

6 GUARDS DEMOTED

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Ohio penitentiary Warden Ralph W. Alvis has announced the demotion of six guard officers including veterans Lt. Henry Barnes and Capt. James W. Baker.

Pay Scale Approved

City council last night set up a salary schedule for various city recreation department workers as recommended by the recreation board.

The schedule follows:

Playground play leaders, Class "A," with one year's experience in the Mansfield system, 95 cents an hour; Playground play leaders, Class "B," no previous experience in the Mansfield system, 85 cents an hour.

Supervisor of baseball, $1.05 an hour; supervisor of men's and boys' athletics, $1.05 an hour; supervisor of Safety Town, $1.10 an hour; supervisor of arts and crafts and girls' athletics, $1.10 an hour; umpires, Class "A", $3.50 per game; umpire, Class "B", $3 an hour.

Getting ready for the July 2 arrival of Dr. Harry Wain, the city's new health commissioner, council authorized the sale of the car formerly used by the health commissioner and appropriated $1,600 for the purchase of a new one.

The legislators also appropriated $1,350 for rebuilding and overhauling a city bookkeeping machine.

An ordinance establishing a new grade on Abbyfeale road was approved.

Two Admit Robberies

Confess Taking $754 From Ex-Employers

Two former restaurant workers were held in county jail today after confessing that they robbed their employers of $754.

Deputies identified the suspects as Paul R. Lyons of Mt. Vernon and Paul Rich, formerly of 118 South Diamond street.

They said Lyons admitted robbing Miss Ida Myers of approximately $625 in cash in her Bellville home late Friday and Rich confessed breaking into the Bethel Stadium restaurant, near Arlin field, on June 16, and taking $129, mostly in small change, from the cash register and cigaret and pinball machines.

Deputy Norman Smaltz said $351 of the stolen money was recovered from a hat band in Lyons' room.

Lyons was traced, deputies said, through an unusual sole mark off a work shoe. He wore a mask during the robbery, they said. Miss Myers said Lyons quit the restaurant about three weeks ago. Charges against him were expected to be filed today.

Rich was apprehended by Hammond, Ind., police yesterday. Richland county deputies traced him to his sister's home there. He was charged with breaking and entering.

Deputies said Rich failed to report for work at the restaurant the day after the burglary. His former landlady, Mrs. Nellie B. Draves, of the South Diamond street address, told officers that Rich returned to his room early June 16 with a pinch bar and screwdriver and with his pockets bulging.

NEGOTIATIONS CONTINUE

TB HOSPITAL STARTED—Mrs. Hattie Hunt, donor of the site on the Lucas road where Richland county's new TB sanatorium will be built, turned the first shovelful of earth yesterday morning as excavating for the new building started. Looking on were county commissioners, building commission members and TB officials. From left to right are Guy Stewart, county commissioner; Mayor Roy Vaughn, Dr. Paul Stoodt, Attorney John C. O'Donnell, Charles Stecker, John Selby, county commissioner; Dr. John S. Hattery, chairman of the building commission; Dr. Oren A. Beatty, sanatorium superintendent; Mrs. Margaret Adams, executive secretary of the Richland County TB association; Major William Jones of the Salvation Army; Charles Payne, county treasurer; Norman L. Wolfe, county auditor; Mrs. Grace McCausland and Mrs. Nona Darling, TB sanatorium staff members.

Policy Makers Pledge GOP to Arms, Equality

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Republican policy makers today completed a 1948 platform pledging internationalism, a potent military machine and civil rights for all.

The platform framers finally laid the text before the country after nearly a week of writing, wrangling, and revising.

The objective is to win as many votes as possible in November. The Democrats will write a platform next month for the same purpose.

Chairman Henry Cabot Lodge of the GOP resolutions committee will offer the 2,400-word document—shortest in the party's history—to the national convention tomorrow for approval. Conventions usually accept platforms without a fuss. Republican National Chairman Carroll Reece today predicted "harmonious action."

The platform, adopted by the exhausted resolutions committee at 12:10 a. m., today and made public later in the morning, was described by Lodge as broad enough for any of the main Republican presidential hopefuls to stand upon.

It deals with scores of highly controversial topics, among them public housing, Israel, prices, and anti-communist legislation.

The foreign policy plank—dedicated to "the preservation of a free America in a free world of free men" and plumping hard for "collective security against aggression"—bears the unmistakable marks of Michigan's Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, a possible darkhorse contender for the presidential nomination.

It pledges aid to other peace-loving countries on a basis of self-help (as in the present European recovery plan). But the platform writers inserted these words: "Within the prudent limits of our own economic welfare."

The plank closely follows Vandenberg's ideas on strengthening the United Nations.

The plank says "we propose" maintaining the army, navy and air force "to a degree which will insure our national security." Also: the achievement of "effective unity" in the department of national defense: "sustained effective action" to get "sufficient" manpower for the services, "recognizing the American principle that every citizen has an obligation of service to his country."

DRAFT NOT MENTIONED

There was no mention, by name, of either the draft bill passed by Congress just before it adjourned last Sunday morning, or of universal military training, which Mr. Truman asked in vain.

On civil rights, the platform is not far different from President Truman's program which caused such an outcry from southern Democrats.

The Republicans called for prompt legislation to outlaw lynching and to abolish the poll tax. They opposed the idea of racial segregation in the armed forces.

The term "fair employment practice commission" was knocked out of a preliminary draft, but the finished version favors enactment of "such federal legislation as may be necessary" to maintain the right of every individual "to work

Convention Picks Martin As Chairman

Speeches Limited To 15 Minutes

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — House Speaker Joseph W. Martin jr. of Massachusetts — himself a dark horse candidate for the presidential nomination—today was elected as permanent chairman of the Republican national convention.

Martin will take charge and address the convention tonight.

The convention adopted a report of the rules committee limiting presidential nomination speeches to 15 minutes and holding seconding speeches to four or five minutes each per candidate.

Nothing was done about a scheduled report of the credentials committee on state delegation contests. A majority of the committee has ruled on the various contests, in one of which it voted to seat a Dewey faction from Georgia instead of a Taft group. A minority report contesting this decision is in the making but was not ready for submission.

This morning's session was called to order by Gov. Dwight H. Green of Illinois, temporary chairman, who presented Acting Senate GOP Leader Kenneth S Wherry of Nebraska.

Wherry departed from his prepared text to promise congressional consideration of a long-range housing bill.

Another speaker was Sen. Raymond E. Baldwin of Connecticut, who was presented as "one of the outstanding Republicans in the United States Senate.

The session today, third of the convention, opened at 10:23 a. m. (EST) and adjourned at 12:37 p. m.

Westbrook Pegler

Close to Next President As Dewey, Taft Brush By

PHILADELPHIA—There we were, standing by the front door of the Adelphia hotel, and three or four people came excusing their way in—

"Excuse me! Pardon me! Excuse me, please."

The second one in a taffy-colored $30 suit, a one-flight-up suit, the second one was Tom Dewey. You could reach out and touch him. Not so little, at that, except he has got a big tall guy over six foot running interference and that makes him look little.

Paul Lockwood is his name. He used to be a sports reporter in New York doing mostly swimming and the women's department, at that, when Trudy Ederle was growing up. Then city-side for a while.

But on the side, he was studying law, or lawr as he will say, being Brooklynese, and the next thing anybody knows he is sore of press relations for Tom Dewey, the boy wonder in the district attorney's office.

The name of Tow Dewey was becoming a trade-mark, like Amos and Andy. He was coming to be famous all over but not merely on account of the sensational, you know, sex, angle of the news but because he was tearing into entrenched corruption, as we say on the editorial page, and winning decisions in a hostile arena and sometimes with hostile judges and referees. And a hostile press, too.

The reporters were against him. Some of them were dumb, lazy loafers who didn't like to be stirred up and had personal friendships among the old regular politicians and cops.

Some were nasty intellectuals who figured him for a fresh little squirt and brashly ambitious because he had the nerve to say sometimes, even then, that politics was a career and government a science, and intimate that he was a carreer man himself, and fixing to go as far as he could.

That might mean even to 1600 Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, D. C. He didn't say no. It was dam nonsense and Tom Thumb certainly did get his lumps from the press in those days.

Eight years ago Tom came to the Philadelphia convention, the 1940 thing. He and Senator Taft, too, and they were giving each other the elbow on the turns and tripping and crowding and refusing to be nice. And the first thing anybody knew the nomination went to a Democrat, Wendell Willkie.

Then four years ago Dewey caught the ring in Chicago and ran against a fellow more dead than alive but nobody could beat that war situation although the little guy came close. He was green in 1940 and still sprouting in 1944 but this year you con say he is ripe or mature unless you want old men exclusively.

Just after he went in the door of the Adelphia, there was some more of that "excuse me! Pardon me, please!" And I looked and, so help me it was Taft, himself, coming out. They probably met at the elevator door. You see more famous people, more celebrities around here.

I figure I may never get close to the White House myself but standing there at the front door of the Adelphia I was close enough to reach out and touch the next president of the glorious old United States of A.

Walter Winchell

Grant Voted Democratic But Got GOP Nomination

ANYTHING CAN HAPPEN at a political convention. Willkie in 1940 stampeded the Republicans, as Bryan had stampeded the Democrats 44 years before. . . . If Eisenhower gets the Republican nomination, he will not be hampered by the fact that he is said to have voted Democratic . . . General Grant voted Democratic and, following the war, got both the Republican nomination and the Presidency . . . If an Eisenhower bloc were in either convention, it would take the full strength of the nat'l party machines to keep it from tearing loose.

★

There is a reason behind this. Nine out of ten of the state leaders are interested primarily in a victory in state politics . . . Their principal interest is a man strong enough to help them carry their state . . . Theodore Roosevelt was forced into the vice-presidency because as a reform governor he was a headache to the Republican state machine. He called it his vice-presidential funeral party . . . Daniel Webster refused the vice-presidency saying he wanted to be buried only in a coffin . . . The most famous turndown was Senator Hiram Johnson, who refused second place on the Harding ticket. He demanded all or nothing. If he had not refused he would have been President instead of Coolidge.

★

It was at the 1920 Republican convention that Harry Daugherty cynically remarked that the candidate would be picked by 15 perspiring and bleary-eyed men at a 2:11 a. m. conference in a hotel room. He was right . . . The payoff on Harding was a remark of one of his Marion, Ohio, neighbors as Harding was notified of his election. "The difference between you and George Washington," aid this fellow-townsman, "is that George Washington couldn't tell a lie, and you, Warren, can't tell a liar."

The mists hung heavy over Monticello not so long ago. A living President of the United States, in the rain, was assisted to the grave of another great President . . . Removing his hat, FDR read aloud the epitaph: "Here was buried Thomas Jefferson, author of the Declaration of Independence, of the Statute of Virginia for Religious Freedom, and Father of the University of Virginia" . . . Not another word was spoken.

Back in the car, President Roosevelt said: "Most Americans think the greatest gift of the American people is the Presidency—to one man. Thomas Jefferson, who wrote his own epitaph, knew better. He knew that the greatest gift of the American Republic was independence, equality of opportunity and religious freedom for ALL citizens. Jefferson did not even mention that he was President of the United States. He merely recited those charters he authored by which other men could live in dignity and freedom. Gentlemen, the goddess of history records only the names of the men who disdain her titles and her laurels."

★

Lived on Crackers and Water For 35 Days

'Gee, Mom's a Swell Cook'

By NITA BRANSON

A 22-year-old private, who lost 22 pounds in a survival ration test for the U. S. Army, was back home today, "testing" some of Mom's good food.

He is Pvt. Edgar W. Hiles, with the Third Armored division at Fort Knox, Ky. His "mom" is Mrs. A. E. Wilson, 25 Hedges street.

Yesterday morning he ate bacon and eggs and drank his cup of hot coffee with the relish that only a man, who has subsisted for 35 days on crackers and water, could know.

"Gee, Mom's a swell cook," he exclaimed.

It was his second normal breakfast in five weeks and his first at home.

Pvt. Hiles was one of 10 men from Fort Knox who completed the test.

'PRETTY BAD AT FIRST'

For the first few days, it was "pretty bad," Pvt. Hiles said. But as they became accustomed to the cracker and water diet, they settled into a routine of ping-pong, cards, reading and lolling on the beach.

"I think probably a man could live 70 days on such rations," Pvt. Hiles said.

"We got about five crackers for each meal, four times a day. At first they gave us only one vitamin pill a day. Then we got so weak that they increased it to four. But except for losing weight and feeling a little weak, I feel fine."

"But he does have a touch of indigestion, now and then," his mother said.

Pvt. Hiles thinks that's because his stomach still isn't used to adequate food. It will need a little stretching, he thinks.

ON SICK LEAVE

The men who took the test, Pvt. Hiles said, were supposed to have received an extra $3 per day. But the extra allowance got lost in the shuffle and they received only a 30-day sick leave.

But that extra 30-day sick leave, Pvt. Hiles said, is pretty swell.

"I'd like to do some hunting but since this isn't the hunting season, I guess I'll have to take to fishing."

Pvt. Hiles served with the third armored division in Europe during World War II, was "too close to Bastogne for comfort" and had a tough time getting across the Rhine.

"We went across in a tank, while the Germans were sniping all around us."

He reenlisted three years ago and has been training recruits at Fort Knox. He hopes to be sent to Camp Atterbury when that camp reopens.

But right now he's not thinking of much of anything but sleeping and eating—especially eating.

SMILES HIS THANKS—Appreciation for a good breakfast is reflected in the grin which Pvt. Edgar W. Hiles gives his mother, Mrs. A. E. Wilson, 25 Hedges street. The reason? Pvt. Hiles just completed with ten other Fort Knox, Ky., service men a 35-day survival ration test in Metropolitan hospital, New York. He left the hospital Saturday.

Mrs. Charles Dies at 79

Mrs. Luella Smith Charles, 79, of 565 West Fourth street, died Monday afternoon at Madison hospital following an illness of several weeks.

Mrs. Charles was born near Little Washington, July 12, 1868, and had spent her entire life in this community. She was a member of the First Congregational church.

Mastersingers Win Audience Acclaim

By NITA BRANSON

The Mastersingers presented the first of their two summer concerts last night before a near-capacity audience that called the singers back for several encores.

The second concert will be presented at 8:15 p. m., today in the John Simpson auditorium.

The men's chorus was in fine form last night. The guest artist, Marshall Heinbaugh, quickly won the audience with his gift of mimicry and his rich voice.

There were several special features at last night's concert that made it out of the ordinary. Usually when the curtain rises, the 60 Mastersingers are on the stage ready to sing. Last night, as the curtain rose, the stage was dark except for a brightly lighted coat of arms against a dark velvet backdrop.

While the audience watched, the light on the coat of arms grew dimmer and the stage grew brighter. Finally, the palm-decorated stage was thrown in bold relief, with the green, red and gold insignia in the background. Then the men marched in.

WIN AUDIENCE

From the moment they began singing their signature song, they had the audience with them.

Of the first group, "Goin' Home," by Dvorak, always a favorite, and Malotte's 'The Lord's Prayer," were the most enthusiastically received. Later "The Lord's Prayer" was repeated as an encore without applause.

In their second group, they were assisted by Bentley Ford, whose fine singing added color well-known Bucyrus baritone, and distinction to the music. This group included the famed "Ol' Man River," repeated as an encore at the demand of the audience.

In the Mastersingers' closing number, "One Alone," by Romberg, Heinbaugh was soloist. It was a fitting climax to one of the best amateur programs ever presented here.

Chorus to Present Benefit Concert

During intermission at last night's Mastersingers' concert, H. B. Soulen, president of the Chamber of Commerce, announced a benefit concert to be given Aug. 23. Proceeds will be used for the singers Lake Chautauqua trip on Aug. 28 and 29.

Soulen said the trip will cost $1,500. New coats must be purchased for the trip, and other expenses will pile up the expense. At no time during their two years of singing here have the Mastersingers been paid, Soulen said. Each member contributes $10 as a membership fee.

Mansfielders who attended last night's concert and who will be present for tonight's program, will be given priority for tickets for the August concert, Soulen said. After June 26, the sale of tickets will be open to the public.

Amount Boosted $63,500

$1,299,730 Asked For Operations

A record $1,299,730 Mansfield school budget was submitted to the board of education last night for study. The board is expected to take action on the measure at its July 19 meeting. A public hearing on the budget will be advertised.

The proposed budget calls for expenditure of approximately $63,500 more next year from the general fund than will be spent this year. Actual general fund expenditures in 1947 totaled $1,081,780.

Besides the general fund expenditures, $216,712 would be set up for bond retirement and interest. This figure compares with $230,231 in 1948 and $79,368 last year.

Teachers' and supervisors' salaries in 1948 will require $886,500 as compared with about $839,111 this year and $741,176 in 1947. The budget requests $21,110 for administrative salaries next year as compared with approximately $20,650 this year and $18,998 in 1947.

Administrative office supplies, replacement of office equipment, travel expenses, rent and storage would cost $6,590 next year.

SUPPLIES DOWN

The amount asked for textbooks, supplies and equipment replacement next year is $42,000, about $3,000 less than the estimated expenditures this year.

Transportation costs are expected to be less in 1949, dropping to $15,000 as against $20,000 this year and $20,178 last year.

The board budget makers expect operation of the school plant to cost more next year, requesting $75,950 to finance them as compared with $74,800 this year.

It was estimated that $161,350 will be needed in 1949 for custodians' salaries and other maintenance costs. The 1948 total is $160,200.

Musicians Ask Stadium

The board of education was asked last night to make available either of the high school stadiums for free summer band concerts simular to those held last year. The board postponed until Wednesday action on the request of H. A. Beilstein, secretary-treasurer and business agent for Local 159, Musicians union. It wishes to determine which stadium could be made available. Work still is in progress at Arlin Field. Portable lights would be needed in the old stadium.

Beilstein said the concerts again would be under the direction of Dr. Louis Pete, director of music at Ashland college.

He said the musicians union has funds available for four concerts, but hopes through financial aid from interested citizens to put on six. Last year's concerts were heard by 4,000 persons.

He said the national organization allows $500 out of its musical record fund for salaries of 45 musicians for each concert. Remainder of the expenses comes out of the union treasury.

Firm Offers Bid On Transformers

A bid of $340 was submitted by the Ideal Electric company yesterday for the purchase from the city of three electric transformers formerly used at the North Main street company. The Ideal company was the only bidder.

Sole bidder to offer to construct a 24-inch, 280-foot sanitary sewer interceptor from the first manhole east of Ashland road 280 feet east was the R. O. Darling company. The total of the bid was not immediately available.

"Why CAN'T we sit here? We put a nickel in the meter!"

Air of History In Making Pervades GOP Convention

By LOUIS BROMFIELD

PHILADELPHIA — (INS) — There was a sense of history being made in the great auditorium here today.

More than at any other time in the record of our nation, the decisions made and the candidates nominated here will serve to mould future events affecting directly and powerfully not only the people and interests of this nation, but those of the entire world.

Not since the great days of Roman empire, when the actions and decisions of a few men reached the edges of the desert, the jungle and the ocean, has any great convention of people been charged with so heavy a responsibility.

The thousands of delegates and spectators in the huge auditorium appear to be aware of this.

They also seem to believe that the nomination of any candidate for President is equivalent to election in November.

The auditorium itself has a "new look," for it is the first time in history that the proceedings of a great convention are being transferred by television to the nation.

The balconies are encircled with huge high-powered lights which do nothing to lower a temperature which is already beginning to attain traditional convention heights.

Outside it is hot and inside the temperature threatens to equal that of the 1944 Republican convention in Chicago, when the Democratic cohorts of Mayor Kelly turned off the air conditioning system.

In the press box, which shares the brilliant glare with the platform and speakers' box, most reporters yesterday rapidly began to develop spots before their eyes and rushed out to purchase the sun glasses with which the brass hats were already provided.

The real business — the bargaining, the deals, the quarrels over seating delegations, the more violent disagreements on procedure—were all taking place in hotel rooms while the oratory rumbled and routine resolutions were passed.

Yanks Take Wind Out of Tribe Sails, 13-2

Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

TRIS SPEAKER easily rates with Ty Cobb and Babe Ruth as the best outfielders baseball has produced. . . . Speaker had a lifetime batting average of .344 and stole 433 bases. . . . He was the seventh player elected to the Hall of Fame. . . . Tris started baseball in 1906 and hung up his glove after a brief fling in 1933 when he was co-owner of Kansas City with Joe E. Brown. . . . He recalls a catch he made in 1920 as his greatest thrill "because it was such an important one. . . . Tris says:

"It was my first full season as manager of the Indians and we were having a terrific battle with the Chicago White Sox for the pennant.

"In this particular day, near the end of the season, we were playing the Sox at League park in Cleveland. We were a game and a half ahead, but with a tough road trip still to come. Going into the eighth inning we enjoyed a two-run lead, only to have Chicago fill the bases after two were out.

"Joe Jackson was the batter and he hit a terrific line drive out my way. I got to the ball all right, but was running full speed when I made the catch, and proceeded to crash into a pillar. Down I went and out like a light but somehow or other I held onto the ball.

"We went on to win the game and boost our advantage to two and a half games instead of having it shrink to just half a one. Subsequently we took the pennant and beat Brooklyn in the series."

LUTHER EMERY, Massillon sports editor, throws a bit of cold water on the Northern Ohio athletic conference in a recent "Emery Wheel" column. . . . He says in part:

"There are half a dozen or more other scholastic leagues in Ohio, but undoubtedly the present Northern Ohio conference is the toughest and most representative ever assembled. Outside of the league, I don't know how much recognition will come to its champions. However one thing is certain, the league will only survive so long as its members show an interest in it. Though only born last March, one of the primary organizers has already missed the last two meetings, and competition isn't scheduled to begin until 1949 because of previous schedule commitments."

Cleveland Lead Cut to 2½ Contests

CLEVELAND — (INS) — The Cleveland Indians may win the American league pennant this season, but the New York Yankees will have plenty to say about it.

The Bronx Bombers looked like the Yankees of old last night in Cleveland stadium as they cut the tribe's league-lead to 2½ games with a 13-2 drubbing before 49,837 fans.

Allie Reynolds, former tribesman, pitched and batted himself to his eighth victory of the season, he limited the tribe to nine hits while collecting three himself.

BEARDEN ALLOWS

Southpaw Gene Bearden was the starter for Cleveland and for the third straight time was unable to go the route. He was touched for seven runs and 11 hits in his five-inning stint. Steve Gromek finished the game.

Although Joe DiMaggio contributed his 15th homer of the season, one short of Ken Keltner's pace-setting mark, it was the bottom half of the Yankee lineup that caused the most trouble.

Besides the four runs driven in by Reynolds, George Stirnweiss poled a home run, two doubles and a single and scored four runs.

The Indians' only long extra-base blow was Eddie Robinson's four-bagger in the sixth, his eighth of the year Robinson and Bearden were the only tribesmen to collect two bingles off Reynolds.

Robinson scored Cleveland's first run in the second to tie the score temporarily at one all. As leadoff man, he lined a one-baser to right and later came in on Walt Judnich's single.

WEIRD RUNNING

Had it not been for some weird base running in the fifth, the Indians may have been able to get back into the ball game.

Bearden opened the inning by grounding his second hit through the infield. Larry Doby, who moved back into the lineup to replace Hank Edwards, who is nursing a pulled leg muscle, dropped a single in left field sending Bearden to second.

Then Manager Lou Boudreau came through with a clutch single but Bearden was out at the plate and a rifle throw from Yankee Catcher Gus Niarhos nabbed Doby sliding into third.

COULDN'T DELIVER

Another chance to score was muffed by the Redskins in the third when Robinson couldn't deliver with the bases filled and two down.

With three more games scheduled with the Gotham city sluggers this week, Portsider Sam Zoldak, acquired from the St. Louis Browns last week, was given the call today to take the hill against the bombers.

Zoldak made one start against the Yankees this year while with the Browns, but was removed in the seventh while holding a 3-2 lead.

Camps Radiate Confidence On Eve of Heavy Title Go

NEW YORK—(AP)—Confidence radiated from both camps today as Champion Joe Louis and challenger Jersey Joe Walcott enjoyed a brief lull before their 15-round heavyweight title bout tomorrow night at Yankee stadium.

"I'll get him quick," was the cold prediction of the Brown Bomber, who announced his 25th defense of his crown will be his last ring outing.

"He's ready," was the tag handlers put on Walcott, the amazing comebacker who almost snatched the title last December.

Odds favoring the champion remained firm at 5 to 13 although there was talk of a late flow of Walcott money that might reduce them slightly by ring time.

This is the shortest-priced choice Louis has been since the second bout with Max Schmeling ten years ago when he was held at 5-9.

The weatherman, meanwhile, gave the outdoor attraction a temporary blessing, promising a cloudy, humid day but no rain.

COUNT ON 55,000

Ticket sales continued brisk but Promoter Mike Jacobs' hopes of a million dollar gate appeared certain to fall short. The Twentieth Century Sporting club is counting on a turnout of around 55,000, a gate of approximately $900,000. Television and radio receipts are extra.

Louis put in his final training licks at Pompton Lakes, N. J., yesterday, turned up with a black eye and announced afterwards, "I think I'm 50 or 75 per cent better than I was for the last fight."

The champion scaled 213 after his last drill but expects to hit between 214 and 215 when he weighs in Wednesday noon.

Jersey Joe, who finished tapering off Sunday, planned to break camp at Grenloch, N. J., today and move to New York to await the weigh-in. He will check in at around 195.

Two Contests Open Play In Major League

Two games today at 6 p. m. will open competition in the Hot Stove league's major baseball league.

Sons of Herman will battle Zitzer's at Blue Goose field while Ohio Sport Center and Yuncker Sports will tangle at Liberty Park.

A quartet of games yesterday in the Elementary and Junior loops opened Mansfield's summer baseball program. The feature tilt between the Police and Carpenter Bus teams was rained out.

However, John Stranski got the Junior circuit program off to a good start by pitching the Exchange club to a 7-to-1 victory over the Elks. Stranski allowed only one hit. Percy ruined his game with a single and the lone run in the fourth.

Of the other crews entered, only Wisconsin and Pennsylvania were given more than an outside chance of victory.

North Lakers Extend Streak To 4 Straight

North Lake held tightly onto its Park Softball league leadership last night by walloping Prospect, 24 to 6. Buzenski led the winner's 16-hit attack with four blows. North Lake has won four straight.

In the other game, Johns won its fourts victory in five starts by rapping the Gorman-Rupp juniors 9 to 1 behind the one-hit pitching of Willie Fowler. Fowler fanned nine. Howie Tipper paced Johns with a single, double and home run.

Regula Pitches No-Hit Game

Fireballer Whiffs Nine In Thriller

With Fireball Bobby Regula turning in a neat no-hit, no-run mound performance last night, Mansfield Gorman-Rupp erased the last threat to its first round title in the North Central Ohio Inter-City softball league.

Regula pitched the Mansfield aggregation to a 4-to-0 victory over the strong Willard Elks before approximately 1,000 fans at the G-R field. The Willard outfit was the only club rated a chance to overhaul Gorman-Rupp.

Only one man reached first base as Regula turned in his best effort of the season. Bobby walked a man in the sixth inning and allowed only one pitch to be hit out of the infield. He fanned nine.

GET ONLY FIVE

Gorman-Rupp could fashion only five blows off Bob Smith, Willard ace. However, all of the safeties figured in the run making as Smith whiffed 10 and walked one. Mansfield and Willard had battled to a 16-inning tie two weeks ago.

A single run in the first inning clinched the result. Kenny Windsor singled, went to second on Pete Campbell's grounder and stole third. He scored on a one baser by Tic Hamilton.

Manager Nick Weber strolled in the fourth and tallied on Bud McKee's triple. The latter crossed the plate following a passed ball. Weber got the final run on a sixth inning homer.

★

Mansfield has now won six straight league conflicts while Willard has broken even in four tests.

★

Fats Millisor of Marion Smitty's Grill also pitched a no-hitter in the league last night as he blanked Mt. Vernon Stone's Grill, 4 to 0. Marion is in second place with five wins and two defeats.

★

Gorman-Rupp will entertain the district champion Stark Brick team of Canton at 8:30 p. m. tomorrow. Stark Brick, which has an unusually full schedule, has won 27 of 29 starts this season.

Sauer Ties Cincy Home Run Record

(By Associated Press)

Hammering Hank Sauer, in his first full year in the major leagues, gave promise today of blossoming into the greatest home run hitter in Cincinnati baseball history.

The 29-year-old outfielder yesterday tied a club record for the most home runs hit by a righthanded batter when he blasted his 20th four-bagger of the young season. The blow enabled the Reds to nip the Phillies, 4-3, in a night game in Philadelphia. The victory, Cincinnati's second in its last 10 games, snapped a four-game losing streak.

Until yesterday, Ernie Lombardi, in 1939, and Frank McCormick, in 1944, were the only righthanded batters in Cincinnati's long history to hit 20 home runs in one season.

Ival Goodman holds the Reds' all time record for home runs in one season. A left-handed batter, Goodman hit 30.

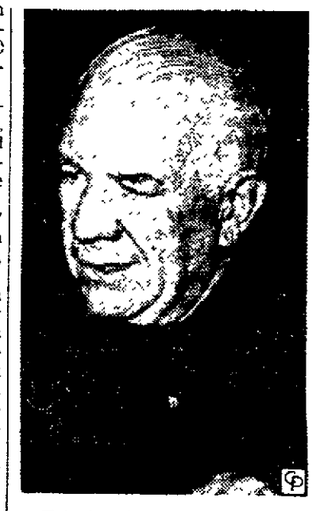
Alpha Brazle bested Warren Spahn in a brilliant southpaw pitching duel to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 1-0 victory over the league leading Braves in a night game in Boston. Brazle, who has pitched only one other complete game this season, thus became the first pitcher in the last 24 games to go the distance against the Braves. He allowed seven hits to six for Spahn.

MAINTAIN LEAD

The Braves, however, maintained their game and a half margin on the runner-up Pittsburgh Pirates who were defeated by the Dodgers in a night game in Brooklyn, 5-2.

Allie Reynolds pitched the Yankees to an easy 13-2 triumph over his former Indian mates in a night game in Cleveland. The victory cut Cleveland's first place lead over the Yankees in the American league pennant race to two and a half games.

Three consecutive doubles after two were out in the last half of the ninth inning drove in four runs and gave the Browns a 9-8 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics in a night game in St. Louis.



Tris Speaker, regarded as the greatest center fielder of all time, will address a public meeting in the First Presbyterian church auditorium at 8 tonight.

Mansfielders Have Definite Ideas on Fight

By CHARLEY STINE

Rivalling the Republican convention as the number one subject of conversation of Mansfielders today was the Louis-Walcott championship fight scheduled tomorrow night in Yankee Stadium.

Businessmen, factory workers, barbers, and housewives all discussed the fight and picked their favorites as they went about their daily tasks.

Concensus of a poll conducted by the News-Journal sports department indicated that most people were banking on Joe Louis to maintain his record of kaoying every opponent the second time around.

Some held out for Walcott but appeared not so confident as the majority of Louis' supporters. A limited few rated Jersey Joe as a better fighter than Louis ever had been and thought that Walcott would take the champion with little trouble.

Typical of those questioned was Ed Chatlain, czar of the junior baseball program. Said Chatlain—"I think that after 'losing' the first fight, Louis will knock out Walcott in about the sixth round. Even if it is a long fight I think Louis will win a clear-cut decision."

Jersey Joe . . . in street clothes

Joe Louis . . . in street clothes.

Contacted in the City Recreation office along with Chatlain was "Rec" director Stan Kamen and Madison high coach Ennis Walker Both picked Louis in the early rounds but different on the outcome of a long fight.

Kamen opined that Louis had taken off too much weight for a man his age and would tire if he didn't catch Jersey Joe in the first few rounds. Walker had faith in Louis waiting on Walcott to come to him and then waylaying him with a counter punch by the seventh round.

Harold Snyder—Walcott is the smartest fighter Louis ever fought. He has been training longer and will win by a decision.

Andy Angeloff, barber—"Louis will win even if he has to go 15 but I think he'll get him in the third or fourth."

Keith D Fay—"Walcott in the sixth."

Michael Colangelo—"Louis by a knockout in the fifth"

Mrs. Harry DeLaney, housewife—"Louis in the sixth round."

Virginia Marion — "I have read that Louis is in good condition but I will string along with the people's choice — Walcott by a decision.

Lee Harris—Joe Walcott will win the championship in the sixth round"

James Nail — "I think Walcott learned a lot about Louis in the last fight and that he will have less trouble this time than before"

A man who picked Tony Zale to knock out Rocky Graziano in the fifth round (he kayoed Rocky in the third) was Rev. John Gensel, an avid sport fan. He had this to say — "Joe Louis in the third round."

We agree with him.

'48 Pig Crop Smallest Since 1941

U. S. Forecasts 3 Per Cent Drop

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A 1948 spring pig crop of 51,421,000 head —the smallest since 1941 and a drop of three per cent from the previous spring — was reported yesterday by the bureau of agricultural economics.

The crop reporting board forecast a fall crop of about 31,000,000 head if the intended number of sows to farrow materializes and the number of pigs saved equals the ten-year average. This would be one per cent under last year's fall pig crop.

The combined indicated spring and fall pig crops is two per cent less than in 1947 and five per cent below the ten-year average.

Reports indicate 4,910,000 sows are being kept for all farrowing, about the same as last fall, but eight percent less than the ten-year average.

Compared with last year, the West-North-Central states and Western states show increases of two per cent and eight per cent respectively in the number kept for all farrowing while the East-North-Central states dropped one per cent, North Atlantic and South Central states two per cent and South Atlantic states three per cent.

The indications were reported as of June 1. They fall short of the 1948 fall farrowing goal which called for a ten per cent increase for the nation.

On June 1 the estimated number of hogs six months and over on farms was 23,746,000 head, two per cent less than on June 1 last year. The board said this indicated there would be a smaller slaughter during the period June through September.

Mohican Sailing Boats Among Top Choices In Race

Mohican Sailing club boats will be among the favorites in the big International "Y" Flyer and Youngquist trophy race at Chippewa Lake next Saturday and Sunday.

Boats from all over the United States and Canada will participate. Fritz Constance, Mohican, copped the race in 1946 and will be one of the top choices. He finished third in the "Y" division of the Ohio Inter-Club yacht regatta last week-end.

Constance would have won as he was leading the final heat but missed the count of laps and finished out of the money. Other Mohican "Y" skippers, who will compete, and their standing in the OICYA follow:

Roger Roser, 5; Martin Brunner, 6; Harry Wilson, 7; Gib Dobson, 8; Otis Cummins, tie for 9; Dick Tappan, 13; H. O. Dysart, 14; Jack Gilbert, 15, and Pat Siegenthaler, 17.

Mohican Frank Jansen placed fourth in the Thistles and Bob Fetcher was seventh, Walt Burghard and Jack McKinnon, 9 and Lee Forup, 11.

In the Lightning class, Glen Macy came in 19th, Augie Gretegut, 20; Huston, 23, and Gene Smart, 24.

More than 120 boats competed. Paul Tappan, Mansfield, was the chief judge.

The International "Y" regatta will open with open race Saturday and will conclude with a pair Sunday. Boat compiling the most points in the three races will get the crown.

Two Conferences Meet In Track

EVANSTON, Ill. — (INS) — The Western and Pacific Coast conferences, topmost collegiate strongholds in the United States Olympic track and field designs, flash their talented wares late today in head-on combat.

The Western conference has won only two of the seven interleague meets in the past, but those two were the last two — so the big nine's going for its third straight, and favored to make good, too.

Pay of Postal Workers Hiked

One hundred and 17 postal employes in Mansfield are expected to get pay increases under the postal bill enacted by congress.

The measure gives 480,000 of Uncle Sam's postal workers across the nation increases of $450 a year. Pay boosts of $330 a year also were provided for 850,000 other federal employes.

An increase in postal rates is tied to the bill.

The new rates, to become effective Jan. 1, 1949, call for:

Air mail—Increased from five to six cents.

Third-class bulk mail—Up two cents a pound.

Special delivery stamps—Raised from 13 to 15 cents.

In addition, a new four-cent airmail postcard would be introduced.

The new rates are expected to provide $125,000,000 to help pay for the salary boosts.

Girls' Club Plans Trip to Camp Ohio

The Big Sisters 4-H club of Bellville planned a trip to Camp Ohio on July 10 and 11 at a meeting held at the home of Marilyn Swank in Bellville.

The group also made plans for stenciling and worked on project books.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Viola Litt of Fredricktown on July 1.

After a quiz contest the hostess served refreshments.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills. —Adv

Bridge Job Left to City

The county commissioners told city council last night that they can't repair the Orange street bridge over the Rocky Fork.

Council received a letter from County Engineer Walter E. Rusk in which he stated that the commissioners said they are unable to participate in the repair of the bridge.

Orange street is one of the streets on the city's street improvement program and is scheduled to be resurfaced. Before repairing it, the city felt it wise to have the bridge repaired and, believing it was the responsibility of the county, asked the commissioners to finance the project.

A legal opinion rendered by Prosecutor Theodore Lutz stated that Richland county is not responsible for making repairs to the Orange street bridge, adding that the work is the sole responsibility of the city of Mansfield.

The state law says the county is responsible for the repair of all bridges over natural streams, regardless of their location, and on the basis of that law, the city asked county to do the work.

Lutz's opinion quotes subsequent attorney-general and court decisions which indicate that the county is responsible only for bridges over natural waterways located inside the city limits if the road crossing the stream is a public highway.

Truman Calls Dewey Tough

WASHINGTON —(U.P.) - President Truman believes that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York would be the toughest opponent the Republican national convention could give him.

He feels House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts would be the easiest to beat in November.

White House sources said Monday Mr. Truman listed his choices during a recent "bull session" with some members of his staff. The President's selections — from hardest-to-beat to easiest opponent — reportedly were as follows:

Dewey, Harold E. Stassen, Gov. Earl Warren of California, Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, Sen. Robert A. Taft, Sen. John W. Bricker and Martin.

REFEREE ORDERED

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The Supreme Court yesterday directed Chief Justice Vinson to appoint a special referee to consider a federal-state dispute over California tideland boundaries.

Vets Push For Housing

Don E. Kirkpatrick, Amvet housing chairman, said yesterday the group seeks the services of an architect to draw up plans and specifications for a four-room low-cost house, which could be built for veterans.

The Amvets are working in conjunction with the North Central Builders' and Contractors' association.

Kirkpatrick cautioned, however, that financing was the big problem. He said that after the plans and specifications are drawn up they will be submitted to financing institutions, such as mortgage companies and banks.

If such firms will undertake the financing according to terms within the financial means of the average veteran, then the project can get underway, Kirkpatrick said. Otherwise, the plan will have to be abandoned.

The two groups here are aiming to follow in the steps of the Toledo Amvet organization where, since Sept. 1, more than 350 houses have been build for veterans.

The proposed four-room house would have a full basement and a second floor, which could be converted into another room.

Kirkpatrick said veterans have expressed enthusiasm and contractors had shown considerable interest.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Single Vote Halts Ruling On Taft Law

Four Justices Hold Political Ban Void

WASHINGTON — Only a single vote kept the U. S. Supreme court from ruling unconstitutional the Taft-Hartley law's ban on union political expenditures, a study of the decision by which the court sanctioned union publication of political editorials in labor newspapers disclosed today.

Four high court justices said that the labor law provision is unconstitutional, but the other five jurists refused to rule on this question. A majority of the court members considering a case is required for a decision.

All nine justices agreed that the CIO did not violate the Taft-Hartley law provision when it published an editorial in the CIO News supporting the reelection of Rep. Garmatz (D.-Md.). The decision is expected to have an important bearing on this year's political campaigns.

The supreme court's majority opinion said that congress in passing the ban on political spending did not mean to forbid political discussions in union newspapers, nor the distribution of those newspapers.

COURT QUOTES TAFT

The court opinion quoted at length from Sen. Robert A. Taft's explanation of the law on the floor of the senate, and from debate on the measure, to demonstrate that Congress "did not want to pass any legislation that would threaten interferences with the privileges of speech or press or that would undertake to supersede the constitution."

The court pointed out that the line between newspapers engaged solely in publishing news and publications designed to forward the interests of a particular group "is not clear." But, it continued:

"In the absence of definite statutory demarcation, the location of that line must await the full development of facts in individual cases."

The court said:

"Members of unions paying dues and stockholders of corporations know of the practice of their respective organizations in regularly publishing periodicals.

"It would require explicit words in an act to convince us that Congress intended to bar a trade journal, a house organ or a newspaper published by a corporation, from expressing views on candidates or political proposals in the regular course of its publication."

1ST AMENDMENT CITED

The minority opinion, concurring in the CIO case but declaring the law to be unconstitutional, was written by Justice Rutledge, who claimed that the section "cannot be squared with the first amendment" of the constitution.

Rutledge accused the court of "abdicating" its function in by-passing the constitutional question of "invasion of the legislative function by rewriting or emasculating the statute."

Justice Frankfurter, in a separate concurring opinion, said he felt the case never should have come to the high court on constitutional grounds and expressed satisfaction with the majority opinion.

OTHER ACTIONS

In other actions as it wound up its 1948 spring term, the court:

Upheld, 5 to 4, the government's right to order now the deportation of enemy aliens arrested during the war. It also upheld a 150-year-old alien deportation law.

Rejected, 5 to 4, the objections of 15 bondholders to the reorganization plan of the Missouri Pacific railroad. The bondholders thought their claims should have taken precedence in the reorganization over a $10,565,227 claim of a Missouri Pacific subsidiary road.

Upheld, 5 to 4, the Mississippi "franchise" tax on out-of-state companies that own property in Missouri but do no business there. The levy was challenged by the Memphis Natural Gas company after it was taxed $10,200 for three years on a pipeline it operates through Mississippi.

Official Warns of Danger In Kites Near Power Lines

Kites and model airplanes can bring injury or death to their owners if the toys come in contact with power lines, Joy A. Herbert, Ohio Public Service company vice president and division manager, warned today.

He advised against flying kites or any airborne objects close to electric wires. Transmission lines are most dangerous, but no wire is 100 per cent safe, he said.

Herbert cautioned against touching any loose electric wire. He added that should a person come in contact with an energized wire, a second person—unless he is fully informed as to what to do—should make no attempt to touch the victim.

Under some circumstances, the second person can also experience electric shock or even death, he said.

"If a damp kite string or metal parts of the model plane touch electric wires, there is great danger," Herbert warned. "In some instances, even fine wire has been used to fly objects. This means certain death if the object should come in contact with electric wires, particularly transmission lines.

He listed five safety rules:

1. Don't fly a kite, a model airplane or any object near electric lines.

2. Don't use wire as a kite string.

3. Don't climb poles or trees to recover a kite or any object.

4. Don't fly any object near heavily-traveled streets or highways.

5. Never touch a fallen wire.

Move By Rivals to 'Fence In' Dewey Benefits Sen. Taft

Backers See Little Hope For Stassen

Keynoter Green Blasts Dem Rule

(Compiled From Wire Dispatches)

PHILADELPHIA—The shadow of a political fence, erected by his rivals, surrounded Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York today, slowing down his drivse for the Republican presidential nomination.

It does not constitute an agreement to "stop Dewey" but it may doom his chances of victory in the 24th Republican convention.

The movement serves to benefit Sen. Robert A. Taft, of Ohio, Dewey's chief rival for the party's top honor.

The strategy was of no apparent benefit to Harold E. Stassen, who was being counted out of the Republican presidential contest today by some of his own supporters.

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg's boom was not yet underway but could come with a whoop in a deadlock.

'TOO EARLY' FOR DEAL

Stassen supporters said it was "too early" to talk about a deal. But they indicated a trade was possible. It would put Stassen on the ticket for vice president with either Vandenberg or Taft—Vandenberg much preferred.

The first two sessions of the Republican National convention yesterday lacked some of the whoop-em-up enthusiasm traditional with party pow wows.

Gov. Dwight H. Green, of Illinois, sounded the keynote of the convention last night when he declared that the GOP will free the nation from the New Deal's "bosses, boodle, buncombe and blarney."

Green scornfully blistered virtually every aspect of the Roosevent and Truman administrations. He labelled the Democratic party a "fantastic partnership of reaction and radicalism and said the New Deal was "a Trojan donkey filled with swarming bureaucrats."

'FUTILE POLICY'

The keynoter blasted the administration's "futile policy of appeasement of communism." He said:

"The truth is that New Deal diplomacy threw away victory long before our fighters had won it.

"History will say that the inept leadership of two Presidents permitted Russia to slash Europe in half, prostrated European economy, imposed upon America the burden of supporting western Europe, and lost us a stable peace."

"We are here," Green told 13,000 hot but happy delegates, spectators, and candidates, "to nominate the 34th President of the United States."

With the GOP in the White House after 16 years of political exile, he said, the country will enjoy a new era of peace and prosperity and progress toward "a greater America."

"We are not going back to any yesterday," Green said. "All our yesterdays have taught us that we have a duty to tomorrow . . . we make this convention a real covenant for peace."

Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, former congresswoman, former playwright and actress got the rostrum after the appearance of Gov. Green.

On another controversial domestic subject there was a battle in committee over public housing—and the public housing advocates won.

The plank finally written recommends "federal aid to the states for local slum clearance and low-rental housing programs," but only where there's a need that can't be met by private enterprise, states, or cities.

The plank is similar to the public housing provision in the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill, which Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio drove to passage in the Senate but which met repeated rebuffs in the House.

Communists—It pledges enactment of "such new legislation as may be necessary to expose the treasonable activities of communists and defeat their objective of establishing a Godless dictatorship controlled from abroad." There was no mention of the House-passed Mundt-Nixon bill which died in a Senate pigeonhole after stirring widespread controversy. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Harold E. Stassen engaged in a public radio debate on the issue.

FAVORS ELECTION CHANGE

Elections—It favors a change in the method of electing presidents in order to "more exactly reflect the popular vote."

Tidelands—It favors "restoration to the states of their historic rights to the tide and submerged lands, tributary water, lakes, and streams."

Farm—"Farm prices should be supported on a just basis," and farm co-operatives should continue to be encouraged.

Labor—It pledges "continuing study to improve labor-management legislation in the light of experience and changing conditions."

Inflation—It charges that the Democrats by their policies have "deliberately encouraged higher prices," and promises to combat inflation by cutting government waste, stimulating production, trimming the public debt, and maintaining a sound currency.

Among other things, the platform favors "eventual statehood" for Hawaii, Alaska, and Puerto Rico; urges development of Alaskan communications and resources; favors self-government for the District of Columbia; proposes large improvements for the west; recommends equal rights for women, and so on.

Overseas Food Group Elects

Rev. R. W. McNary, pastor of the Ontario Community church, and Arthur Mellick, were elected co-chairmen of the Christian Rural Overseas program at a meeting of the organization committee in common pleas courtroom last night.

Mable Spray, home demonstration agent in the county extension office, was elected secretary, Dick Wolford treasurer, and Gail Hammett publicity chairman.

The C. R. O. P. plans a collection of food in Richland county later in the year for shipment abroad.

Religious Education Decision Called Step Toward Atheism

GALION—The action of the United States Supreme court, in banishing the teaching of religion in the public schools, is the first step toward atheistic communism in our educational system, according to Msgr. R. C. Goebel, pastor of St. Petetr's parish in Mansfield.

He said it is a step which all of us, as taxpayers, are helping to perpetuate. The statement was made when Msgr. Goebel, dean of the Mansfield Deanery, addressed the second meeting for 1948 of the Mansfield Deanery, Toledo Diocesan Council of the National Council of Catholic Women.

He also discussed the Catholic stand on divorce.

Guest speaker at the meeting, held in the American Legion club rooms here, was Rev. W. Evans Wilson, assistant dean diocesan director of the Home and Foreign Missions, Toledo.

His talk concerned an explanation of the functions of his office, known as "The Propagation of the Faith." He explained that each of the 145 parishes and 10 missions parishes of the diocese are contacted personally by a representative of his office once a year for donations to the missions. Sixty cents of every dollar is expended on foreign missions and 40 cents is used for home missions.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. S. A. Lorens, president of St. Joseph's parish, who then introduced Mrs. Charles D. Ritchey of Galion, chairman of the Mansfield Deanery. A welcome also was given by Rev. Richard Rauth, who is assisting at St. Joseph's church during the temporary absence of Rev. F. X. Hermiller.

Mrs. Ritchey was named delegate, and Miss Veronica Kelley, alternate, to the national convention of the N. C. C. W. to be held in New Orleans, Sept 11 to 15. Miss Donna Daniel entertained with a piano solo prior to the address.

Members were present from Mansfield, Crestline, New Washington, Bethlehem, Bucyrus and Galion's two parishes.

Held to Jury On Charges Of Burglary

Mansfielder Bound Over Under Bond

Robert Hall, 319 Grace street, pleaded innocent in municipal court today to a charge of breaking and entering and was bound over to the grand jury under $1,500 bond.

Hall was arrested by police early Saturday morning near the Michael Augustine gas station at Sixth and Diamond streets. The building had been apparently burglarized but nothing was stolen, police said.

Robert Fisher, 314 East Fourth street, was fined $100 and costs for carrying a concealed weapon. He was arrested Sunday night after shooting a hole in a neighbor's door.

Bobbie R. Beavers, an Arrow cab driver, was fined $75 and costs for failing to stop after an accident. His license was suspended for six months.

Winfield Greer, 495 South Diamond street, paid $10 and costs for failing to yield the right-of-way.

Henrietta Smith, 65 East Sixth street, who was sentenced to 90 days in the women's workhouse yesterday on a charge of being a keeper of a house of prostitution, will be in court tomorrow for re-sentencing.

A motion will be made by the county prosecutor's office, alleging that the court erred in sentencing her to the workhouse. The state will declare that she is a second offender and therefore must be sentenced to one to three years in the women's reformatory. She was found guilty of the same charge in April.

Sutton to Head Veterans' Group

He and the other newly-elected officers will assume their duties following induction ceremonies June 12.

Other officers elected last night included Lawrence Powell, senior vice - commander; Kenneth Layland, junior vice commander; Ray Arnold, chaplain, and Lawrence Geary, sergeant-at-arms.

Herschel Mapes and Robert O'Leary were named as executive officers of the organization while Harry Honse was elected treasurer-adjutant and service officer.

Cub Pack Greets 3 New Members

Three new members were welcomed into Mansfield Cub pack No. 5 last night by the pack members and Cubmaster J. D. Merrell at a wiener roast at Olivesburg State park.

The new members are Jerry Lommatzsch, Gregory Thompson and George Smith.

Robert Davis, William Workman and James Zivkoff, members of Cub pack No. 5, received advancement awards.

Draft Bill Boosts Queries About Service Enlistments

While there has been no big rush so far to enlist in the National Guard or other military organizations in Mansfield, recruiters said the draft bill has stepped up inquiries about enlistments.

Men who sign up with the National Guard or other active reserve units before President Truman signs the draft bill are exempt from the draft.

The Army, Navy, and Marine recruiting offices today reported increased activity, but most of it is in inquiries about enlistments and the advantages in signing up now.

"Some men want information on benefits of regular enlistment rather than waiting for draft board assignment," one recruiting official said.

The recruiting offices are still expecting a greater rush of men in the draft age group.

Officials reported that many men realized that enlistment in inactive reserve organizations would not guarantee draft exemption.

"Many hope to be assigned to service schools or units of their own choice through voluntary enlistment," a recruiter explained.

Richlanders Spotted At Convention

generously cover even old Ben Franklin. The hotel manager is a staunch Taft supporter. Even the attractive skaters in the hotel's ice show are wearing big Taft buttons and are introduced as Miss So-and So for Taft.

The lobbies are tremendously noisy and crowded. Glee clubs, bands, soloists all add to the confusion. In the Ben Franklin George Bender, a Taft Delegate often appears singing his "Four Leaf Clover" song.

Bender created a little stir among Ohio Republicans when on Sunday night he introduced Gov. Herbert as the best governor Ohio has ever had. A few minutes later he introduced former Governor Myers Y. Cooper.

Least desirable guest at the Ben Franklin is Eva, a 500 pound baby elephant for Taft from Columbus. With Eva is an Indian elephant boy who does not speak English. An interpreter must be present all times.

Also present with an interpreter is Chief Spotted Crow, an alternate Stassen delegate from Pineridge South Dakota. The 77 year old Sioux chief does not speak a word of English.

The big question to all Ohio visitors is can Taft make it? Stassen is already counted out with his delegates probably going to Taft on later ballots. The Ohio Stassen delegation Monday voted to support Senator Taft in a controversy with the Dewey camp concerning the seating of rival Georgia delegations and the second or third ballots should see an almost united Ohio delegation.

There is considerable talk of a Taft-Stassen ticket. There is also some talk that Vandenberg will hold his votes away from Dewey to the end. There has been some violent anti-Vandenberg talk, and some sources say this has been traced to Dewey supporters.

Most impressive single fact in Taft's favor, has been the excellent public reception.

Dewey is still the convention favorite but the press call it a wide open race.

Mrs. Erma Ritchie Dies In Hospital

Mrs. Erma Frances Getz Ritchie, 71, of 125 Willow street, died at General hospital today at 11 a. m.

Born in Millersburg on Oct. 20, 1876, she had lived in Mansfield for 33 years. She was an active member of the First Presbyterian church.

She is survived by her husband, Joseph B., three sisters, Mrs. Anne Adams and Mrs. Mabel Buchanan, both of Mansfield, and Miss Grace Getz, Loudonville, and one daughter, Florence, of Cleveland.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Finefrock funeral home with Rev. David N. Roller officiating. Burial will be in the Lexington cemetery.

ENTERTAINS CLASS

William A. Rand, 209 Seventh avenue, will entertain a Bible Study class at his home Friday at 7:30 p. m. The class will study "Prophecy." Meetings will be held each Friday night for an indefinite period.

Two Persons Injured

A taxi passenger and a West Fourth street pedestrian were slightly injured Monday afternoon in separate traffic mishaps, police reported today.

Mrs. Sylvia Clark, 224 West Third street, suffered a minor head injury when the Safety cab in which she was riding collided with a car driven by Charles G. Garron, Mansfield, R. D. 2, police said.

Police, who arrested Garron for failing to yield the right of way, said the mishap occurred at 3:15 p. m. in front of 147 North Diamond street. Garron will answer the charge tomorrow in municipal court.

The cab driver, William Marzetti, told police that Garron entered North Diamond and that he was unable to stop in time to avoid hitting the auto.

James Augustine, 304 Auburn street, received minor back injuries, when he was struck by a car driven by Howard R. Richard, 167½ West Third street. Police said Augustine was struck at 4:10 p. m. as he attempted to cross West Fourth street in front of the Bing Furniture store.

Martin Gang Called GOP's Big Danger

Speaker Organizes Bid For Power

By WALTER LIPPMANN

Mr. Truman has been trying to make it appear that the country must choose between what this Congress has actually done and what he has asked it to do. But that is not in fact the issue. For while Mr. Truman can denounce the record of Congress, he could not, even if he were elected, hope to do anything about it.

In the three years he has been President he has been unable to lead his own party in Congress, much less to influence the Republican party.

Only the Philadelphia convention can deal with the issue created by the bold and ruthless actions of Messrs. Martin, Taber, Allen, and Halleck.

Their chief aim is not economy. It is not to protect young men against the draft. It is not isolationism or nationalism. It is political power, it is office, it is patronage, it is the service of lobbyists and special interests. They are out to defeat Vandenberg, Stassen, Warren and as regards Dewey, to defeat him if possible, to envelop and get a grip on him if they cannot nominate their own man.

★

The calculations of Speaker Martin and his organization are plain enough. They feel certain that the weakness of Truman, the candidacy of Henry Wallace, the demoralization and poverty in Democratic organization that the [illegible] at Philadelphia will be elected.

The plan of their campaign has been to make a Republican record in Congress that no one but a Martin or a Bricker could defend, that Vandenberg, Stassen and Warren would be bound to repudiate, that Dewey, and even Taft, would have to stultify themselves to accept. The worse the record, the better for them.

They have struck paralyzing blows at the two main measures of the bi-partisan foreign policy: the E.C.A. and military rearmament. They have dealt no less destructively with housing and education, that is to say with the measures that distinguish Taft from the absolutely unreconstructed reactionaries.

★

The paramount issue at Philadelphia is, therefore, this bid for power which has been organized by Speaker Martin. If his faction wins at Philadelphia, it is certain that the campaign will be as bitter, as confusing, and as demoralizing as any in American history.

For then both parties will be a collection of angry and hopeless factions, and there will be no national leadership around which the people can rally and unite.

The Martin-Taber-Allen-Halleck junta might be elected. But the new Administration could never unite the country, could never unite the Republican party.

But though this reactionary bid for power is formidable, it can be repulsed and defeated. It can be repulsed in the resolutions committee by the adoption of a platform that fits men like Vandenberg, Stassen, Dewey, and Warren; it can be defeated by the nomination of a ticket which, though a compromise among these men, is uncompromising in respect to the Martin-Taber-Allen Halleck faction.

A Vandenberg-Dewey or a Vandenberg - Stassen ticket would do that clearly and unmistakably. A Dewey ticket with a vice-president chosen to to buy off the opposition of the Martin faction would leave the future in grave doubt. For it would mean that Mr. Dewey had given hostages, and that he could not free himself without a bitter intra-party struggle.

It is, however, as certain as things can be in politics that with a good platform and with a ticket which marks a clear decision by the convention, the power of the Martin faction to obstruct and destroy would swiftly be brought under control.

CASTIGATES "PROMISES TO JOE STALIN"—"The only promises kept by the Democratic administration were those it gave to Joe Stalin!" Gov. Dwight Green of Illinois tells Republican delegates in Philadelphia's Convention hall, keynoting their national convention with a bitter castigation of the "futile policy of appeasement of Communist Russia."

Democrat Watches Quietly Amid Republican Confusion

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

PHILADELPHIA —(UP)— After wading [illegible]-pad deep in Republicans [illegible] it was a shock to run into a sign saying: "Democratic National Headquarters."

And right in the Bellevue-Stratford hotel, where the Republicans have pitched camp. The city of brotherly love had become a city of brotherly confusion. But it looked as if there might be a little peace and quiet behind the paneled door of room 422.

There sure was. It turned out to be the quietest suite in town. There, sprawled in an overstuffed chair in his shirtsleeves was Victor Hunt Harding.

His friends call him Cap. He's the pleasant old secretary of the Democratic national congressional committee.

"What in thunder are YOU doing here Cap?"

"Slumming," he said, snapping his braces. "And enjoying it."

He seemed to be getting a kick out of things, at that. Outside his room in full view was a blown-up rubber elephant which kept acting up, to the misery of the GOP. First the trunk sprang a leak and went limp. Once the whole business collapsed on top of a harried Republican who had been sent up to the hotel marquee to fix it.

"How about this Republican business here, Cap? Who's going to come out on top and face Mr. Truman in November?"

"Well, now," he said, hitching up his blue serge pants again, "it wouldn't be fair to tell you everything I know. But I can tell you a couple of things. Those Republicans tried to hand us the election in advance with that stuff they pulled in Congress."

"That's thing number one.

"Number two: I'm a pretty close observer.

DEWEYITES SMART

"Tom Dewey has got some smart operators on his side. A lot of savvy. Second time out, you know.

"And watch that waxed mustache catch and glances and a lot of votes from the new look. The women. Might even say Tom is a new look in politics."

Bob Taft of Ohio?

"Well, the Taft workers are old-line politicians. They've got their feet wet. They know what they're doing."

And the Harold Stassen crowd?

"There's a gang you've got to watch, too," he said.

"Hal's got the starry-eyed young gang on his team," said old Cap. "You've got to shadow that kind. They're crusaders."

Cap said he came here to do a little spade work for the Democratic hoe-down which begins here in three weeks.

"I'm gonna stick around," he said. "I might learn something."

Librarian Back From Conference

Miss Lois MacKellar, librarian at the Mansfield Public library, returned yesterday from the annual conference of the American Library association in Atlantic City.

The more than 3,600 delegates who attended the conference discussed how they could best accomplish the four-year goals set up at last winter's conference. The group hopes to accomplish the goals by the time of the association's 75th anniversary which will be celebrated in 1951.

Goals include programs and service which will contribute to the awareness and understanding of urgent problems, adequate informational and educational materials in every library, good library service for every American, and every library staffed by an adequate number of competent librarians.

Outstanding speakers at the meetings were Pearl Buck, well-known author, and Norman Cousins, one of the editors of the "Saturday Review of Literature."

Report 1,000 Dead In Flood

NANKING—(AP)—A great flood has inundated Foochow (Minhow), drowning 1,000 and leaving 200,000 of the city's 800,000 population homeless, reports from that south coastal city said Monday.

Premier Wong Wen-Hao ordered emergency relief planes to aid the stricken people at the mouth of the Min river.

The 200 foreigners living in Foochow suburbs were considered in little danger since they all reside on higher ground than the city proper.

Rains Ease City Water Problems

Supply In Woodland Reservoir Climbs

Adequate rainfall and some water conservation by Mansfielders have combined to keep the Woodland reservoir at a safe level during the past two weeks, O. C. Kalbfleisch, water superintendent, said yesterday.

"The reservoir was full Monday morning," he said, "and it seems that people are watching how they use the water."

Several weeks ago the water fell to a dangerous level when a combination of dry weather and excessive sprinkling of lawns and gardens brought a plea for conservation from city officials.

The rain of the last two weeks has kept lawns green and slackened sprinkling.

Meanwhile, workman are continuing to lay the 36-inch pipe line from the site of the highlift pumping station along Cook road to the Woodland reservoir. When it and the high-lift pumping station at the foot of Cook road are completed, the city hopes to increase its daily water supply by 1,000,000 gallons a day.

Philippines Free Rebels

MANILA — (INS) — President Elpidio Quirino signed a proclamation last night granting general amnesty to the Philippine Hukbalahaps after the leader of the rebels, Luis Taruc, flew into Manila and conferred with the chief executive.

The president's action put a formal end to two years of bloody civil warfare which had raged in the central Philippines between the insurgent Huk peasant guerrillas and national forces of the young republic.

Taruc and his party flew to the capital under a safe conduct guarantee issued by the Philippine government at the direction of President Quirino.

The presidential amnesty means that the Huks no longer will be branded as outlaws. Reward offers for the apprehension of Taruc and other guerrilla leaders were withdrawn.

Vets' Bonus Checks Delayed By Errors In Applications

Many Mansfield area veterans who have filed for their Ohio bonus checks are finding themselves at the end of the list for payment, Harry Vandervort, Richland county veteran's service officer, said today.

"Approximately 50 per cent of the claims filed by Ohio veterans have been rejected as irregular claims because of the incorrect completion of their compensation fund forms," Vandervort said.

These men either have failed to fill out their application forms properly or omitted answers to the questions, and in some cases the veterans forgot to enclose their discharge papers," he added.

The men, who have received their application forms to be correctly filled out before being filed, will be put at the end of the list for payment now because of the irregularity of their claims.

"Payments on claims filed to date are being mailed at the rate of 2,500 to 3,000 per day," Vandervort said, "but the compensation fund officials hope to speed the mailing of bonus checks to 75,000 per day within the next few weeks."

Truman Plans Vote Drive

WASHINGTON — (INS) — President Truman already has begun making plans for a vigorous election campaign, the pattern for which was set during his 9,500 mile transcontinental trip.

The President's next immediate trip will take him to Bolivar, Mo., where a statute will be dedicated on July 5 in memory of Simon Bolivar, South American patriot. Mr. Truman will leave Washington July 4 by train.

Big Cancer Grants

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The national advisory cancer council and the U. S. public health service allotted $30,000 to Ohio institutions yesterday for cancer studies. Ohio State university was granted $3,900. The Univers[illegible] nati received two grants totaling $21,620, and the university's [illegible] lege of medicine was awarded $5,100.

Attorney Reinstated

Raymond J. Brown has been reinstated as a member of the bar of Richland county as a practicing attorney, a common pleas journal entry showed today.

The entry vacated a decree of disbarment handed down Jan. 24, 1942. Brown was reinstated by Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch after Brown made application which received the approval of the Richland County Bar association.

The association approved the application after a committee made an investigation.

Brown was disbarred after a bar committee found he had been guilty of misconduct, following his plea of guilty to a forgery charge.

Dewey met her in Chicago in 1923 where she was a secretary and studying music . . . Married in 1928, they have two sons, 13 and 16. Newsmen say she is hard to interview.

MRS. STASSEN was a childhood friend of her husband. . . . Before their marriage in 1929 she was a law secretary. . . . She helped Stassen open his first law office . . . Her maiden name was Esther Glewwe . . . her parents were natives of Alsace-Lorraine.

She rarely makes campaign trips . . . Her stand is a brick house on a bluff overlooking the Mississippi river . . . The Stassens have two children, Glenn, 12, and Kathleen, 6 . . . Mrs. Stassen belongs to the League of Women Voters and is on the board of St. Paul's Children's Hospital association.

After the San Francisco conference she made speeches about the United Nations to St. Paul civic groups . . . She says her husband asks her advice "but doesn't always take it."

MRS. TAFT talks more about her husband than has the wife of any other candidate in history . . . She is trained in politics, has strong opinions, a sense of humor and an uninhibited platform personality . . . As Martha Wheaton Bowers of Winona, Minn., she went to a fashionable girls' school in Connecticut and the Sorbonne in Paris.

Martha met Bob Taft at a school dance in 1910 . . . They were married in 1914 . . . They have four children and six grandchildren . . . They live in an old fashioned, three story red brick house in Georgetown. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, Martha's political comrade, says it's the kind of a home "that has a cookie jar in the pantry instead of a bar."

GOP Gives Them Hearts and Flowers

Candidates' Wives Take Spotlight

By MARTHA KEARNEY

PHILADELPHIA —(NS)— Their husbands may be grabbing for the brass ring, but it's the little women who are getting the hearts and flowers treatment at the Republican convention.

There's no doubt about it; their names won't be before the convention but candidates' wives are very important persons.

Take, for example, the very dignified and very charming Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey.

Not content with letting her speak for herself, as she did at a news conference on her arrival in the convention city, Dewey supporters confected a spun sugar rhapsody entitled: "What to Expect of Frances Dewey as First Lady."

It bubbles:

"Her picture is frequently seen. It is a fine-featured, thoughtful face endowed with feminine good looks.

"She is trim, slim and straight. That she is reserved, devoted to her husband and a good listener has been mentioned in the press many times."

At her news conference Mrs. Dewey revealed that her only ambition is "being my husband's wife." She explained that when she married she made a choice between marriage and a career.

Mrs. Robert A. Taft, in a similar conference, was asked point-blank to explain why she wanted her husband to run for President.

She answered warmly:

"Because I want what he wants and because I'd like a good President."

When newswomen pressed her further and asked her why she thought her Bob would make a good President she said firmly that "he has had the experience in national affairs, the brains and the character."

Mrs. Harold Stassen went through the same sort of grilling when she and her candidate-husband came to Philadelphia. She, like the others, held a news conference, shook countless hands, met countless delegates.

It takes poise and stamina to be the wife of an entry in the convention sweepstakes.

Oh well, after all, coloring the oleo provides exercise for the wrist muscles—and the saving is worth while.

Information to the effect that automobiles are to be "lower" is found to refer to the height, not the price.

Already the days are getting shorter—but you won't start noticing it for another month or so, even on "slow" time.

Convention Exemplifies Democracy

OTHER ATTRACTIONS are taking a back seat this week while national and world interest centers on Philadelphia, where "the greatest show on earth" is under way—with its thrilling climax likely to come Thursday night, or soon thereafter.

As the Republicans move confidently toward selection of a candidate for the presidency, Americans and the peoples of other countries are given an opportunity to witness an exhibition of democracy in action.

There is no dictation, no compulsion, in the processes used to nominate a party candidate, and when election time comes around the voters will be free to use their own judgment in expressing preference as to nominees of the two or more parties.

However bitter the rivalry may appear at the moment, acceptance of majority decision has become so strongly a part of the American system of self government that defeated aspirants and their supporters yield gracefully to majority wishes and usually present the winner as the unanimous convention choice.

Judging from the marked differences of opinion existing right at the scene of the convention, a guess as to the probable nominee seems as justified at this distance as it would be in Philadelphia today—so, unless there is some unforeseeable change in the situation within the next 48 hours—as good a guess as any that has yet appeared is that the nominee will be . . . ROBERT A. TAFT, senior United States senator from Ohio.

Work Started at Sanatorium Site

NOW that actual work has been started on the long delayed Richland county tuberculosis sanatorium, it will be hoped that nothing will be permitted to interfere with earliest possible completion and occupancy of this institution—which is designed to save lives and restore health of those who are threatened by one of the most dreaded of all diseases.

The idea of a county TB sanatorium began to take form a number of years ago, but like many other public projects, time was required to arouse sufficient interest to proceed beyond the talking stage.

Then came the offer, several years ago, of a suitable site for such an institution, as a gift from Mrs. Hattie Hunt and her son. When this was accepted further plans began to take form and one slow step after another finally brought yesterday's start, with an impressive ceremony during which Mrs. Hunt turned the first shovelful of earth for the humanitarian project with which her name is prominently identified.

It is unlikely that any building operation since erection of General hospital, around a quarter of a century ago, has marked a greater forward step for this community than the prospective TB sanatorium, and the progress of its construction will be watched with keen interest.

Cars For Lilliputians, Perhaps

THE CAR of the future, say some automotive engineers, is to be smaller and lighter than Americans have become accustomed to. The time may come, they believe, when cars on the road will resemble those seen in Britain, most of them small.

Trends in car sizes was a subject widely discussed by these engineers, meeting recently at French Lick, Ind. Many felt that the need to save fuel and material will bring the smaller car. Also the parking problem in most towns and cities makes the more easily handled car of small base desired over the long, space-consuming car of the past.

If the engineers are beginning to consider the customer they should try in their planning to bring down car costs, also. Too often a buyer must pay for all kinds of extra trim, and for gadgets such as radios, trick lighters and what not, which he cannot afford or would prefer to do without. The trend toward small cars is promising. But simpler car designs in all sizes would be welcomed by the buying public.

Finding Ways To Reduce Noise

NOISE has long been taken for granted as an integral part of city living. But realization is beginning to come that this, like other annoyances, can be lessened.

Street hawkers in many municipalities have been banned entirely. Business for customer and vendor seems not to have suffered. Streets have become quieter with replacement of the old track-riding trolley by rubber-tired vehicles. Many neighborhoods have banned use of factory whistles.

Residents near railroads, and especially switch yards, still must put up with whistle blasts, making one suspect that locomotive engineers like the sound. But train telephones and radio are replacing some of the whistling. Sound trucks, with amplifiers penetrating all corners of the area where they operate, are being banned by some communities.

Worst offenders of all, in many instances, are horn-blowing motorists.

For the ill, for night workers sleeping in the daytime, for children taking naps, for plain peaceful living, city sounds need to be softened. "Quiet please" is a sign that could be tacked up to good advantage for all offenders.

A new Jap device is a stove that cooks by sunlight, which Harry Wade assumes to be an adaptation of the locked car left in an all-day parking lot.

Out in Alexandria, Ind., 500 citizens worked a day—without pay—filling chuckholes in street pavements . . . can you imagine that!

Naturalists say the rhinoceros is the dumbest of animals—but why feel sure, until one of 'em starts driving a car.

The Man of the Hour.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Rules of the Political Game Explained

THIS is not a convention of the Common Man, for Mr. C. M. will have precious little directly to do with the proceedings which will give us our next president. But the C. M. will hear and see a whale of a show as he sits comfortably before his radio or television or uncomfortably in the crowded galleries in Philadelphia or stands convivially with foot on rail in club or saloon.

He is going to have in his daily paper plenty of food for figuring—lists of numbers indicating voting strength state by state, schedules of the meetings, and so forth.

Lots of pencils will be worn out as balloting proceeds and intense talk will go on about the chances of this or that candidate.

This column seeks to provide the reader with a few political rules—some of them well known, others grossly neglected in most dope previews of the convention.

These rules or principles of conduct may be useful in guessing ahead a bit or in understanding what is happening.

First, in politics natural laws prevail which are more important than deals, commands or the strategy of leaders. The politician-delegate responds to the forces and trends that are best for him or his immediate party friends or his country, district or state.

This being true, it is hardly correct to call this a bossed convention. A great majority of the delegates are uninstructed. Only in a very few states are there central organizations or bosses strong enough to swing all or even a majority of the votes. The first and second ballot will show this, with votes scattered amony many candidates.

Next, it is most important for delegates to remain footloose so that they may move with the tide or what they think is the tide.

* * *

Their Chief Interest.

THE INSTINCT of a politician-delegate will be to avoid a long convention. A long stay in Philadelphia would be uncomfortable, tiring, expensive. Also, if a long deadlock develops, the party will be injured by disunity.

The basic fear of a politician-delegate is that of missing the boat. Those who are left voting for a loser when the winner goes over, face the prospect of four years of discrimination in all matters of favor or patronage.

The delegate is not primarily concerned with the man who is nominated. He thinks of his local ticket. Hence, he asks himself whether this or that candidate will run far enough ahead of Truman to carry the local ticket.

Congressmen who must run this fall think of that, too. A great many of them were elected by narrow margins. They will profit most through a presidential candidate who will not just win, but who will swing a big majority.

Deadlocks and dark horses are not the rule; they are the exception. Only in 1876, 1880, 1888, 1920 and 1940 have dark horses been nominated and the first three of these were brought forward by deep rifts in the party. Such a rift is not now present.

Neither Taft nor Dewey will have the decisive choice of swinging to one or the other or to a third candidate. Their delegates will be sufficiently free to start moving long before the leaders can command them.

The platform, they say, will be short. That means it will be very general; not specific. Thus, it may well be acceptable to all.

Keynote speeches will be agreeable to all elements in the party.

Prompt Industrial Mobilization Urged

WASHINGTON — Thomas J. Hargrave, chairman of the Munitions Board, is fearful that the United States may be unable to arm itself adequately if atom war comes.

Hargrave, who has been urging industry to get its plans on paper to avoid the mad scramble which characterized the World War II rearmament effort, says:

"If the next war is atomic and the enemy drops a bomb on us, there will be no time for the Army, Navy and Air Force to chase around and acquire plants."

Industrial mobilization planning must be done now, says Hargrave. He is pleased by the uniform procurement regulations and the assignment of 77 per cent of arms purchasing to one government agency or to joint procurement by the armed services.

Hargrave warns that any sudden war would find the United States faced with a grave manpower shortage. He points out there will be no reservoir of manpower available like the one which unemployment of 1939-40 placed at the hand of the military.

* * *

Running the Railroads.

While on the point of the threatened rail strike, Army Secretary Kenneth Royall soon after the government took over the lines made it clear he was "going to run the railroads period."

When the heads of the firemen, engineers and switchmen went to the Pentagon building to confer with Royall the conversation opened something like this:

One of the union heads belligerently declared: "So you're going to try to run the railroads."

Royall retorted: "I AM running the railroads. Have you gentlemen read the President's executive order? I didn't see any reference to the word 'try' in it."

* * *

Reading and Spelling.

Senator Harley Kilgore (D), West Virginia, says we can make every effort to promote peace but it will all be wasted if the high United States illiteracy rate continues.

Kilgore, who introduced a bill to send adults back to school, asserted that one out of every seven Americans "probably cannot read the word 'freedom' or spell the word 'peace'."

The senator declared that illiteracy has been a boon to international communism "which thrives on confusion and half-truths." He said: "It takes the written word to make the past, present and future of democracy a vital and realistic truth."

* * *

Army and Politics.

The Army's convinced the presidential campaign apparently is here to stay—at least until the Nov. 2 election day.

The department recently warned its officers and personnel that the handling of "political hot potatoes" should be undertaken with extreme care. In fact, it advised, if possible simply ignore the issue.

Then it renewed its policy that "any dissemination of political news must be made on an impartial and non-partisan basis."

Twenty Years Ago Today

Organized fire drill by employes of Ohio Brass company showed efficiency being developed in industrial safety campaign.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

PHILADELPHIA — We have had 20 speeches and 16 musical numbers and no candidate has yet surrendered. This sets a new endurance record for the course.

* * *

* * *

There were reports that a Henry Wallace man got into the hall disguised as a Kansas Republican but he had a pressed sunflower and a picture of Alf in his wallet. . . . That cleared him.

* * *

Norman Thomas, the Socialist candidate, is watching the convention and the convention is watching him. . . . This race is still anybody's.

* * *

Rumors of deals persist and wisps of smoke are leaking out the keyholes of several hotel rooms. . . . We have an Indian analyzing the smoke for signals. . . . His first report reads "I'll raise you five." . . . This may be a smokeographical error.

Timely Editorial

Why Worry?

Relax. Nervous tension, the Associated Press reports, is killing more people in the United States than anything but over-eating. And millions of cases of over-eating are but expressions of tension. Worry is the most contagious disease in the world. It's beyond the reach of science. The only one who can cure a case of worry is the person who is doing the worrying. Fretting about what may or may not happen isn't going to change the ultimate result.

Let's start an anti-worry drive now, beginning with ourselves. What, actually, have we to worry about? Are we going to sit and stew, or do something.—Akron Beacon-Journal.

Important Role of Southern Delegates

By DREW PEARSON

PHILADELPHIA — The Republican party has always flirted with the idea of breaking the Solid South. It has also posed as the party of emancipation, the champion of a square deal for the South.

— Yet when it comes to nominating the most coveted prize in the Republican party, it treats southern delegates as so many pawns to be bartered back and forth across the counter.

These are the delegates traditionally bought and paid for, who can tip the scales for or against the leading candidate.

Once back in 1928 enough Republicans got so indignant about this barter of delegates that they held a Senate investigation of Herbert Hoover's southern purchases. According to the sworn testimony before that Senate committee, Ben Davis, Colored GOP national committeeman for Georgia, received $2,200 of Hoover money to pay the expenses of Georgia Republicans.

Prior to this payment Ben Davis was not for Hoover. Afterward he was.

Perry Howard, Colored national committeeman for Mississippi, also received $2,000 of Hoover money. The Mississippi delegates voted for Hoover.

Rush Holland, former assistant attorney general for Harry Dougherty, was the Hoover bagman who toured the South and paid off the southern delegates.

Today, Perry Howard, the same GOP potentate of Mississippi, is vigorously in the corner of Senator Taft. Taft has used a technique different from Hoover's. Some time ago he gave Perry Howard's son a job in the Senate post office.

John E. Jackson, chief Republican mogul of Louisanna, is also a Taft man. He is reported to handle some of the law business forwarded by the Taft family law firm in Cincinnati.

This year, however, Dewey has a slice of the southern Republicans, and the battle to carve them up is the chief backstage battle now being fought in Philadelphia.

Who gets them may be the next president of the United States.

Expect Crisis Soon.

BULLISH Senator Bill Langer, North Dakota Republican, ran a nickel up to twenty cents on the Senate floor the other day by joining dapper Senator Millard Tydings, Maryland Democrat, in a bet.

Tydings had a hunch a new crisis would be waiting in Europe as soon as Congress adjourned.

"Mr. President," he shouted, "I will wager you—I shall not wager much . . ."

"Two bits?" suggested Senator Kenneth Wherry, acting majority leader.

"I will say two bits," agreed Tydings, "that we shall not be away from this Congress 30 days before senators will hear of some change in the international situation."

Langer sidled up to him, slipped a nickel in his palm and whispered: "I want to take 20 per cent of that bet."

After Tydings wound up his remarks, he stopped by Langer's desk and plunked down a quarter.

"I think your investment is so good," explained the Maryland senator, "that I want to buy it back at 500 per cent."

Attracted By Big Show

By KENNETH L. DIXON

PHILADELPHIA — By the old tradition concerning the intuitive powers of camp followers, this should be quite a year for the Republicans—just in case there are any lingering doubts in that department.

Of course, it doesn't fill any ballot-boxes, but usually you can tell something of the probable future facing an army, a prize-fighter or a political party by the number of characters who, as the saying goes, just came along for the ride.

And, for what it's worth, Philadelphia this week certainly is crawling with citizens who frankly admit they have no business here.

They pop up all over town in the most unexpected places. After a while, it doesn't surprise you at all to run into a shoe salesman from Spokane or an undertaker from Utah, using the annual vacation to kibitz on the big Republican shindig.

And, to a surprising extent, it's an attendance of pure curiosity rather than connivance.

Naturally, you expect to find the usual number of hangers-on around the various state delegations and the camps of the different hopefuls. But you can hardly say they came along just for the ride.

Also, no one normally faints from the shock of finding a handful of lobbyists hanging around wherever the politicians congregate. True, more than the average allotment of such have popped out of the woodwork this year, but unquestionably they are impelled by something slightly more than mere curiosity.

It's the presence of people who have nothing to peddle who make the point—and they are here by the thousands.

Between sessions, they drift around town, visiting such places as Independence Hall, the Old Christ Church and the Betsy Ross House. Many of them, as a matter of fact, don't even have admission tickets to the actual convention sessions, so they content themselves with watching the politicians at work around the various hotels—a good show on any circuit.

* * *

An Odd Assortment.

TYPICAL of the kibitzing trend is the influx of the fight mob from New York. Down at Lew Tendler's Broad street emporium the other night, it seemed that half the guys from Jacob's beach had suddenly moved into the City of Brotherly Love — a strange place indeed for the cuff-and-cauliflower league to gather.

What makes it particularly strange is that this is the week when heavyweight champion Joe Louis plays a return engagement with Jersey Joe Wolcott, a time when every fight follower worthy of the name commonly is hanging around the camp of the challenger or the champ.

You find others equally unexpected at a political convention.

In one evening, at half a dozen assorted gatherings, this correspondent encountered, (1) An auto parts salesman from Oklahoma City, (2) A department store man from Keokuk, (3) A machinist from Peoria, (4) A cattleman from Abilene, (5) A preacher from Alabama, and (6) A bartender from Los Angeles.

Each had come to Philadelphia at his own expense, and with no particular mission. Two of them weren't even Republicans—"at least I've never voted that way in my life," one put it.

And not one of them had any official business here whatever.

Of course, you also have your important personages who "just happened" to be on hand, such as John L. Lewis, who remains somewhat coy about the reasons connected with his coming. But you could hardly call him a casual visitor—any more than you could hang that term on former national Democratic Chairman Jim Farley who was in town to make a speech, and "just dropped by" Republican headquarters to say hello.

But this correspondent's favorite of all the casual visitors at the convention is the young lady from Denver who just paused here for the week en route to upstate New York.

She wants to see whom the Republicans pick before she continues her pilgrimage to bring back the bones of Zebulon Pike!

Are You Superstitious?

By ELSIE ROBINSON

YOUNG CLEO wants to know if I believe in superstition. Yesterday she broke her looking glass and she's been in a tizzy ever since. What would I do in her case?

I would take a nice, long, cool jump in the Bay, honey.

Do I think that breaking your looking glass can affect your life? I do not. But I do believe that your attitude toward breaking that glass may affect your fate deeply and maliciously.

There are thousands of superstitions which we humans firmly believe and which profoundly affect us. But we are not affected by the superstitions themselves. Black cats and painters' ladders do not make or break our lives but our attitude toward them may easily do so.

For example, my crafty little mother early taught me that "if at first you don't succeed, try, try again." And all my life I have felt deeply that a third trial would succeed where the first might fail. You may call that superstition if you wish. To me it is the natural result of directed and repeated effort.

THIS MUCH I FIRMLY BELIEVE. WE CAN KILL OURSELVES BY OUR FEARS—WE CAN LIFT AND HEAL OURSELVES BY OUR HOPES.

We are what we think, what we fear and what we hope and believe. There is hardly any handicap, physical or mental, which we cannot overcome by our own thoughts.

And by the same token there is hardly any disaster which we may not bring upon ourselves by sick thinking.

It's all up to us.

* * *

HISTORY is full of heroic men and women who rose above their environment or infirmity and created a new world for themselves. And history is also filled with men and women who lost one fine chance after another because they were too cautious, too fearful—and too superstitious.

Then why have we clung so to superstition? We've clung to it because it is the easy thing to do. It seems to give a reason for things when we can see no reason. It attaches a false power to our environment and to trifles which aren't worth a second thought.

Don't believe in superstition. Believe instead in that power within yourself which can face and conquer any challenge that life may send.

Dave Boone Says:

THE Joe Louis fight and the Republican convention will be in full swing at about the same time and it is going to be a little confusing keeping track of the count on knockdowns from both places at once.

* * *

I understand the Republicans regard the fight as unfair competition. To meet the spirit of the thing they may have to announce Dewey is the one wearing purple tights, etc.

* * *

I'm sure of one thing: It will be easier to make Louis and Walcott break clean than it will be to make the politicians do it.

* * *

Harry Truman is back from his road tour. Well, it didn't bring back old-time vaudeville as the Republicans are claiming. And it wasn't the most successful tour since "Life With Father" as the Democrats insist. It fell somewhere in between. Harry did one thing no other president has ever done, though—he came back from the west without having been adopted by an Indian tribe.

Welcoming a New Day

By CALVIN A. BYERS

I HAVE always enjoyed to watch a new day arrive. So, the other Sunday when I awoke before daylight, I slipped out quietly without awakening anyone and walked along our gravel road toward the west.

Fog clung in all the hollows, and the grass was gray with wetness. The sky was lightening; the cool air smelled of luxuriance and growth. I went into my neighbor's woods, walking softly, and sat down on the nearest stump until my eyes should become accustomed to the dimness. Under the tall trees, it was still night . . . a companionable twittering of bird voices was beginning in the treetops.

I could see the dim outlines of tree trunks, and feel their closeness like a friendly presence. Perhaps in woods like this, at dawn, the ancient druids held their rites. Perhaps in such a place Robin Hood, the outlaw, of Sherwood forest, might feel at home.

Certainly through this very glade in earlier times, the Indians came and went, drank from the rill and hunted the wild deer.

Then, startlingly, something happened. Before my very eyes the woods came alive. Silently, the shadows divided and leaped behind every tree. The light streamed through, giving a clear view of the entire grove with its arching canopy of leaves and its clean soft floor. It was as though night had been banished all at once by the sudden motion of the shadows.

Clinging to the strange powerful sweetness of the hour, I walked on up the hill, between the trees, and came out on the high grassy plateau where a few sheep were grazing. And then, I heard bells begin to ring . . . church bells of all the world seemed to echo and re-echo from all the valleys. I faced to the east and heard them faintly—I turned to the west, they came more clearly.

How can that be? I wondered. It is early, yet. Too early for church in the village—where do the bells come from? Their eerie, distant music suited the Sabbath mood. Their lovely mellow notes seemed muted by distance and yet they came clearly on the morning air. When they died away, I stood there on the hilltop, with uncovered head.

"What you heard," my wife suggested, "must have been the radio program from the loudspeakers in the neighbor's barn."

I don't know. Anyway it was a beautiful sound, the church bells of all the world, echoing back from the grassy hills of Honey Creek.

Formal Founder's Day Banquet Held By Beta Phi Mu Sorority

THE CLUBROOM of the Mansfield-Leland hotel was the scene of the Founder's day party for members of Beta Phi Mu sorority recently. Formal initiation of five new pledges was held with Mrs. Robert Phillips as chairman, assisted by Miss Betty Jona and Mrs. Charles Guinn.

A four course dinner was served at 7 p. m. from a U-shaped table spread with white linen and appointed with garden flowers. At the base of the U was a miniature May pole and encircling the many pastel colored ribbons were corsages of mixed garden flowers which were later presented by Mrs. Guinn to the new pledges. Tall yellow and pink tapers in crystal candelabra illuminated the scene. Between the lighted candles were trails of ivy and red roses, the sorority flower.

Each place was marked with a miniature garden hat with a large lacy brim and long pastel streamers.

Mrs. Phillips gave the invocation and Mrs. Dolen Goodner acted as toastmaster. Mrs. Thomas Gerhart gave the toast to the new pledges and Mrs. Jane McBride responded. Mrs. Leon Ford presented highlights from the history of the sorority.

Miss Jona, vice president, conducted the impressive candlelight initiation ceremony at which time Mrs. Jane McBride, Mrs. Eugene Joseph, Mrs. Harriet Starkey, Mrs. John Them and Miss Jean Irvin took the obligation as member of Beta Phi Mu.

Copies of the revised constitution were presented to each new pledge and members in attendance by Miss Jeannettee Baker.

The sorority will hold a picnic in July with Mrs. Clyde Hardman, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Jack Herring and Mrs. James Dopps. The time and place will be announced later.

Astowela Club Entertained At Hollands

A buffet luncheon was served with Mrs. H. S. Jones and Mrs. W. J. Spreng presiding at the table. The centerpiece was of assorted fruits. Arrangements of mixed flowers and pansies were used throughout the dining and living room.

The president, Miss Grace Wolcott, opened the meeting with a poem, "These Things Divine." Mrs. E. S. Weller, conservation chairman, told the club about the soil show plan and project at Brownsville. Mrs. C. V. McConnell, horticulture chairman, gave some helpful hints about gladiolas and day lilies. Miss Wolcott told an interesting story about birds.

Mrs. P. J. Kelley showed her flower, "The Bird of Paradise," a gift from Honolulu, to the club members.

Horoscope

for Wednesday, June 23
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

THE danger of treachery, duplicity, loss and scandal holds over, menacing important plans and objectives in which higher-ups are vitally interested and ready to advance toward events of major proportions. Such seem beset by subtle undercurrents of a fraudulent, subtle, and curious nature, difficult to put the finger on. However, this craftiness or collusion may so distort affairs as to reach the public ear, resulting in ill-report, gossip and discredit, in personal as well as business affiliations. An alert and prudent course of action might defeat such baneful machinations. Be wise in making all contacts.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may feel the drive of heightened energies and a keen spirit of initiative urging them on to adventure or the launching of bold projects, possibly in new fields or in experimental lines, and the weight and potency of such aggressiveness may attract ambitious supporters. Herein lies a danger of wrong judgments, misplaced confidences or unfortunate alliances, serving to circumvent, defeat, and involve the individual in eventual scandal and material loss as well. Keep all moves and contacts open and above board and avoid damage.

A child born on this day may be practical, energetic and enthusiastic, but its very enthusiasm may impel it into taking long chances, and involving it in sinister alliances and snares.

FACTS ABOUT "PILES"

Why leave town to have your piles treated, when I have treated over a thousand cases right here at home, these past 15 years.

I am trained by post-graduate work and experience to make the proper diagnosis and give the indicated treatment. Many cases go about their regular duties without loss of time.

I don't claim a "secret" method. I don't use electric needles. My reputation is your guarantee.
